“Joe understands the complexity of living in a residential community with strong commercial, historic and maritime districts. He evaluates the effect on the entire community before making decisions. He holds his constituents’ quality of life in the highest regard.”

I am honored to have represented the First Ward for the last six months. My business experience and community involvement equipped me to quickly fit into the City Council and represent your interests. Since my appointment to the Council in May I have advocated for a budget with zero increase in tax revenues and won approval for a late-night noise and alcohol inspector.

I have taken the lead in council deliberations to amend the City Dock Master Plan ensuring a series of future projects and studies that invigorate the area while preserving Annapolis’s brand as a beautiful, historic seaport. Parking needs serious management - with the impending rebuild of the Noah Hillman garage, today’s frustrating status quo will not be sufficient.

As your Alderman, I am working hard to make a great city even better. I ask for your vote on Tuesday to continue my service.
